The cowboy of yesteryear, the cowboy of today, *
Do we still keep the old cowpoke's ways?
Memories will fade in time to come,
Will we remember how the west was won?
Remember the nights around the campfire they'd sing,
Or be ready for what outlaw tomorrow would bring?
One tired lonely cowboy gazed into the sun.
Will I be remembered for the deeds I've done?

- Nancy McLeskey

Western Day at Christian Academy

From out of the West came an unusual group.
 You knew at a glance it wasn't a cavalry troop.
 There were cowgirls, cowboys and Indians too.
 I think I even saw a few that I knew.
 Jenni Masters looked like a pioneer mother.
 Larry Millar could have passed for Kit Carson's brother.
 Mary Boren looked like a character from Gunsmoke.
 David Slater reminded me of Black Bart, no joke.
 Daniel Stovall looked more like Daniel Boone.
 There were others who looked like characters from a saloon.
 It was a relief to know that it was being done for fun.
 And no one would blast the Dean with a gun.
 A contest was held, and pictures were made.
 The drinking and gambling were all a charade.
 If visitors got nervous, Mrs. Hurd would just say,
 "Don't worry pardner, it's just Western Day at CA!"

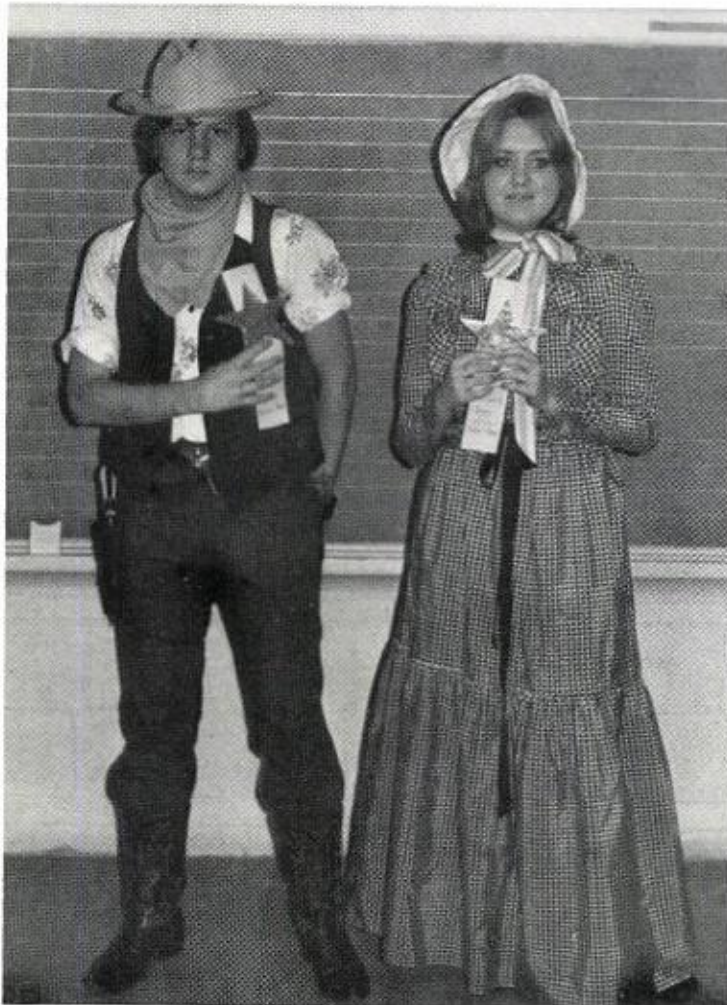

- Mr. Charles Hancock

WESTERN DAY

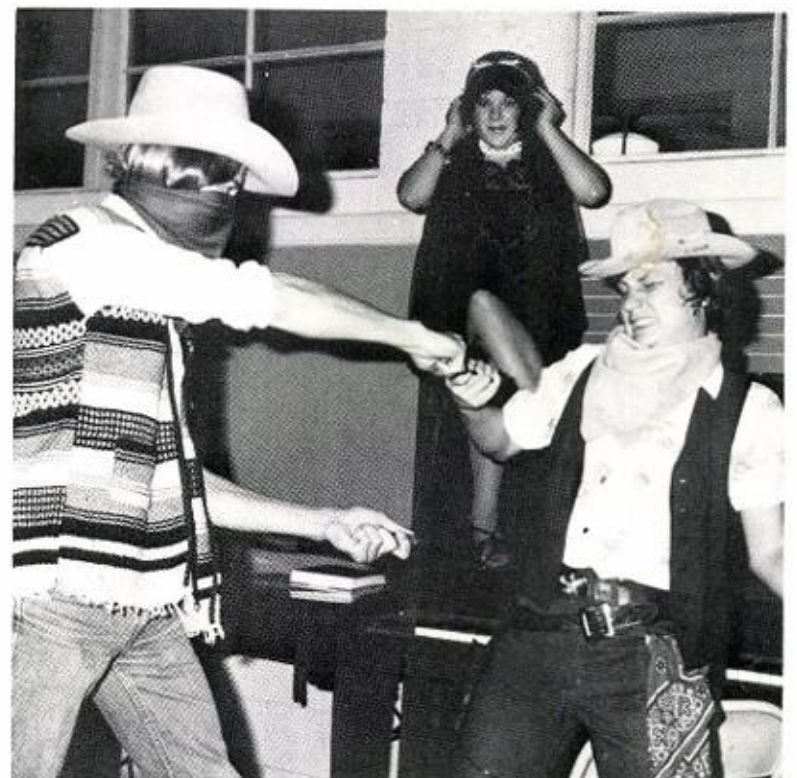

WANTED: more dead than alive.

Winners of Western Day!
David Slater and Jenni Masters.

Look what was found in the teachers workroom.

Mother always told me there'd be days like this.

My Girdle is killing me.

Everyone wants to get into the act.

Just takin' it easy.

Hang in there baby it's almost Friday

"Don't go breaking my heart."

"One more round"

DEDICATION

Mrs. Dixie Hurd

The 1976-77 annual staff and student body of Christian Academy proudly dedicate this year's DOULOS THEOS to Dixie Jeanene Hurd.

In her third year as annual and newspaper sponsor, she has dedicated herself to achieving journalistic excellence in the school's publications.

Mrs. Hurd, in addition to unselfish work with the annual, teaches art and English. Having established the school newspaper, C.A. TIMES, she has organized a local chapter of the international "Quill and Scroll," Christian Academy's first honor organization.

Thank you, Mrs. Hurd, for all of your work, help and understanding.

Christian Academy now has a chapter of the International Honor Society of High School Journalists, better known as QUILL AND SCROLL. This is the first and only honor society of which our school is a member. The first members are Tommy Campbell, editor of the CA TIMES, Richard Ray, editor of the '76 DOULOS THEOS, and Philip Sybert, editor of the '77 DOULOS THEOS. The chapter was granted this fall after Mrs. Hurd, Journalism teacher and publications advisor, submitted copies of our newspaper and annual to the society officials for approval.

This year the Jets have had their best year ever. This being only the third year for CA to have a varsity team, the Jets have won their first games ever. In their first two years they had a record of 0-21, but this year they broke out of their losing streak. Not only did they win their first game, but, as of the time of this publishing, they were tied for second place and still climbing with a 5-2 conference record. This year the Jets have been gifted with an excellent coach in Ken Allen; and they've also received four quite good newcomers, and of course we couldn't forget our six old timers. The Jets have finally arrived and long may they live!
